

DIA Directions for participants in the 9th WMO Virtual Laboratory Management Group

Welcome to Colorado!

You will arrive at Denver International Airport (DIA), airport code DEN.

International Arrivals

If you are arriving directly from another country and have not cleared U.S. Customs and Border Protection, you will arrive at the airport's Concourse A gates. When you disembark from the plane, you will travel through a passageway and over an enclosed bridge; then take an escalator or elevator to U.S. Customs and Border Protection, located in Jeppesen (Main) Terminal. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) officers will examine your passport and other required government documentation. You will collect your baggage and leave the inspection area by handing your CBP Form 6059B to the CBP officer, and exiting into the Main Terminal at Level 5. Find more information on U.S. Customs and Border Protection at www.cbp.gov. (tel. 303-342-7400)

Domestic Arrivals

If your flight originated in the U.S. (you will have already cleared U.S. Customs and Border Protection), it will arrive in Concourse A, B, or C. Follow the Baggage Claim signs to the center of the concourse and take the escalator down to the train level. The trains arrive frequently. You will get off at the final stop – the main terminal. You will then take the escalator up to the main floor of the terminal at Level 5. Depending on your airline, you will go to either the East side or West side of the terminal to claim your luggage. (See attached airline locations for Terminals West and East.) Follow baggage claim signs.
